

In moments, Bucky found himself riding down Main Street with Betty as Laddie's driver. Betty was excited. Bucky was not. He warned Betty not to touch anything.

One Saturday morning, before the sun was high in the sky, Beantown Garage was busy. Quite busy. Today was the last day for beans to get their motor-spoons inspected before the town's big race.

